The Formal Elements of Art

Line

Line is the path left by a moving point. For example a pencil or a brush slipped in paint. A line can take many forms.

Question: What materials could you use to make different types of line?

Colour

Red, yellow and blue are primary colours, which means they can't be mixed using any other colours. The primary colours mixed together make a secondary colour.

Question: In theory, all other colours can be mixed from these three colours.

Tone

Tone refers to the lightness or darkness of something. It could be just an outline or it could be shaded in.

Question: How can you change the tone of a colour?

Shape

A shape is an area enclosed by a line. It could be just an outline or it could be shaded in.

Shapes can be either geometric, like a circle, square or triangle, or irregular.

Question: How many 2D shapes can you name?

Form

Form is a three dimensional shape, such as a cube, sphere or cone. Sculpture and 3D design are about creating forms.

Question: How many 3D shapes can you name? How many can you draw accurately?

Texture

Texture describes the surface quality of something. Actual texture really exists. Visual texture is created using marks to represent texture.

Pattern

Pattern is a design that is created by repeating lines, shapes, tones and colours. A design which repeats according to a rule is called a pattern.

Question: Which other patterns in your life, breathing, music, math, the nature, man-made.

Seven formal elements

The elements are: line, shape, form, tone, texture, pattern and colour. They are often used together, and how they are organized is a piece of art determines what the finished piece will look like.

CHECKLIST: Can you use the formal elements to write a note about an artists work? Can you use the formal elements to write a note about your own work?
